

The Pre Predictions (Events predicted before June 26)

Following are the predictions channeled on April 4th, 2010. The events are dated April 6 - June 26, 2010.

After the manuscript for 2012 Prophecies, Prayers and Preparation was channeled and I realized the magnitude of the events, I asked to be given a few other predictions so a baseline of credibility could be established, since I had no experience getting predictions from these entities before. The predictions they gave me are included here so you may gain some insight, or level of confidence as to how the six predictions in the book might work out.

It is important to understand that these predictions are a starting point to understanding how our energy works. The book contains a wealth of information regarding spirituality, frequency, vibrations and the Ascension Process from the present into the future and beyond. The reader should be receptive to learning and be open to the changes that are going to take place. The predictions may possibly have a 2 – 3 week range of occurrence. The actual place of the event may also be approximate although every effort has been made to insure the message was accurately channeled. Some of the predictions may be read and interpreted one way by the reader and then, when the actual event happens, it may be quite different from what the expectation was. Please refer to the **FULL DISCLAIMER** since I do not assume any liability or responsibility for the correctness of the content, nor do I assume any liability, or responsibility for any damage or any injury to people or property that may result from these channeled messages.

Believe, Trust and Love,

Sherinata

Channeled message: Mother Earth - April 16, 2010
Regarding the Predictions

Dearest Sherinata – star child from the sun. It is I, your Mother of the Earth that speaks to you again. God's omnipotent energy is ever so connected to mine.

Do not put too much emphasis into the earth's predictions regarding the specific details of what it is to come to pass. There will be much changes and disasters and it is up to you to tell the world. And through this book and other sources of information that are coming forth you will be prepared and those that listen and understand will prepare. You will have much information to tell and there will be many people that believe. Metatron tells the truth for he is the one who documents all and as a scribe he can only tell of truth, the truth from the Galactic Council that is known to all who hear.

It is the ego that enters in and creates a world of illusion and through this you “could” create a façade through your predictions but instead you are bright enough and intuitive enough to understand reason and go about this the correct way with understanding and compassion. The dates in the book are most important and the areas of contact and destruction are important for this will give warning to those who want to hear. And above all trust from those who read and believe this information is important. That is our ultimate goal; to have the trust from the chosen ones who are ready for this journey.

Join me now and we will compliment the work that you have accomplished through Max and this will create the book of Trust. The dates and information that you have will be calculated properly and I give you my word that this information is correct through the eyes of God and the love of my planet. Go now my child and let us begin.

With Love, Your Mother, Mother Earth – End channeled message

Predictions below were channeled April 4th, 2010

Prediction for April 6, 2010 – Mongolia Capital Ulaan Baatar – man made, negative effect (war out cry, retaliation?)

Actual Event: World Briefing | Asia Mongolia: Protesters Demand Dissolving of Parliament By: THE ASSOCIATED PRESS:

More than 5,000 protesters surged through the center of Mongolia's capital, Ulan Bator, on Monday to demand that Parliament be dissolved and that promised aid be handed out. The governing parties promised in 2008 to share more of the country's natural wealth with the public through cash grants or through a fund similar to the Alaska Permanent Fund, which pays dividends to residents from oil revenues. <http://www.nytimes.com/2010/04/06/world/asia/06briefs-protest.html>

Prediction for April 15, 2010- W. Coast line of Baffin Island. Polar ice cap melting, (due to natural disaster) large piece of Baffin island breaking off. Baffin Island located in N. Atlantic approx. 1,000 mi. east of Iceland.

Actual Event – Volcano erupted in Iceland on April 15 and the above events were a result of this disaster.

Prediction for April 20, 2010 – N. Coast of South America – Expect great changes in the earth and in the people. There will be much upset. Mankind will have much upset and will treat each other with little dignity. Be kind to each other for what will come will be negative energy that will unlock the earth's potential to intensify its negative rotation and grip. Be it as it may for all good things will come to pass and this is part of the passing. This will have a lot to do with the sadness that runs in the emotions of mankind. Send unconditional love to this situation of war and sadness.

Actual Event : April 19, 2010 - America World News

Caracas – Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez celebrated Monday the bicentennial his country's struggle for independence with a military parade. Venezuelan troops shouted "Long live Venezuela, the socialist homeland" as they passed the presidential box. Red was the dominant color, flanked by the slogan "Independence and revolution." The parade was broadcast live on all major radio and television networks.

"Here we are, the sons and daughters of (independence hero Simon) Bolivar, 200 years later. Soldiers and people, civilians and military officers united to guarantee Venezuelan independence. Never again will Venezuela be anybody's colony," said Chavez, in military attire. "The time has come to attain true sovereignty and independence, not just for Venezuela, because independence will only be complete once it has been attained by all our peoples," he added.

Chavez watched the parade alongside presidents Raul Castro of Cuba, Cristina Fernandez de Kirchner of Argentina, Evo Morales of Bolivia, Rafael Correa of Ecuador, Daniel Ortega of Nicaragua and Leonel Fernandez of the Dominican Republic. Brigades from Libya, Brazil, Guatemala, Algeria, Uruguay, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, Dominica, Cuba, Bolivia, Nicaragua, Argentina, Ecuador and Belarus also paraded through Caracas. Before the military parade, there was a show of traditional music, of sports and of indigenous cultures, among others. The exhibition featured 12,000 people, including 5,400 civilians.

Prediction for April 23, 2010 – In the Middle East expect turbulence inside the land. There will be much unhappiness through this shift and be it as it there is a curse with in the land for those who grieve. This will be time for growth through destruction of the land. Be ready and prepare for this event that will bring a loss of life to those who will be affected.

Actual Event - April 17, 2010 - Iranian cleric make statement "promiscuous women cause earthquakes – from 17 - 26 very emotional statements and over 200,000 women join "boobquake" show cleavage on April 26 for women's rights) The below statement "much unhappiness through this shift and be it as it there is a curse with in the land and for those who grieve...time for growth. Emotional turbulence.

April 27 -

In the vicinity of the Egypt, Libya, Sudan expect great turbulence and movement within and around the earth. Feel the earth rumble under the feet and feel the turbulence bring the people to a standstill. There will be peace but for a minute and then fear of the ego will arise and become apparent. Listen to silence and here the prayers come from those who live there for they will be the ones with fear.

Actual event: correct based on interpretation of frequencies –also based on "boobquake" dates of emotional frequency

Prediction for April 30 – #1: something will effect all of Saudia Arabia (Saudi Arabia is opposite Iran).

Obama starts massive US Air-Sea-Marine build-up opposite Iran

DEBKAFile Exclusive Report May 20, 2010, 2:20 PM A US Carrier Strike Group headed by the Harry S. Truman sails out of Norfolk, Virginia Friday, May 21, as the first element of a new American military buildup in the Middle East, determined by President Barack Obama. It will reach peak level of four-to-five aircraft carriers, most stationed opposite Iranian shores, in late July.

Item#2: In the east quadrant of Russia there will be an earthquake with much turbulence. Something to be careful of but nothing to worry too much about yet. There will be more to come in this area but for now this is something to track and to be aware of.

Actual Event: April 30, the 28th day of the bombing operation, a magnitude 4.5 earthquake took place outside Belgrade. (Russian scientists track recent bombings as a cause of earthquakes.)

Prediction for April 29, 2010 – There will be a heartbreaking disturbance that will wreak the polar ice cap in Peru. It will cause much damage and will be irreversible to the glacier and the water supply that it offers. Do not worry – all will be well in the long run but for the short time there will be damage to watch for. Actual Occurrence happened April 12 (Peru has had several earthquakes since then)

Prediction for May 2, 2010 – in the west central part of China there will be a strong disturbance in the mountain area that will create crevices and much, ash, dust and rubble. This will not effect many people however it is the beginning of many disturbances that will affect this very depressed land.

Actual Event – huge earthquake in the Quinghai on April 14 (located on eastern side of mountains)

Prediction for May 3, 2010 – N. Korea – there will be a state of emergency regarding the people. There will be a negative effect regarding the people and their will be political action that will take place. All will be well.

Actual Event – On May 3 the N. Korean president meets with China for financial backup and alliance to strengthen N. Korea's economic ties in N. Korea. May 10 also, May 20, 2010 – Oklahoman China, Iran and North Korea have established a strategic alliance that focuses on missile and nuclear development, according to a new report. Headline title: North Korea warns of war if punished for ship sinking SEOUL, South Korea — North Korea said Thursday that South Korea fabricated evidence implicating the North in a torpedo attack in order to pick on the North and any attempt at retaliating for the warship's sinking would be answered with "all-out war." ... "If the (South Korean) enemies try to deal any retaliation or punishment, or if they try sanctions or a strike on us, we will answer to this with all-out war," Col. Pak In Ho of North Korea's navy told broadcaster APTN in an exclusive interview in Pyongyang.

May 6 – 9 the area of Peru and out to the waters and through parts of the surrounding land will make leaps and bounds in changes during this few days. Beware of earthquakes, tremors and mere atmosphere and environmental changes. Be aware of shifts that will hurt people and catch them unprepared for shelter. This will be hurtful to the hearts of many that live there for they will see great changes and sadness in this area of the world. There is peace with in the earth from the spirits that live with in but there will be much sadness from destruction that will come from this area. Possible volcanic disruption in the near future.

Actual Event- LIMA, Peru (AP) – A magnitude-6.4 earthquake shook southern Peru near the Chilean border late Wednesday, the U.S. Geological Survey said. There were reports of toppled electricity poles in the Peruvian city of Tacna. Event listed below mentions TACNA.

Also: Sat. May 8 – mag. 4.8 off shore Bio-Bio Chile and 5 on May 9 listed below:

2010	Magnitude	Area
5/6	6.2	Offshore Tarapaca, Chile
5/8	4.8	Offshore Bio-Bio, Chile
5/9	4.9	Offshore Bio-Bio, Chile
5/9	5.9	Liberador, Chile
5/9	4.7	Offshore Liberador, Chile

Predicted for May 15, 2010 Item #1: On this day there will be much turbulence in the area and on the water around the south China Sea and Sulu Sea. Be it calm on the islands but with in the waters expect shifts and changes that will occur as the earth begins to rotate as it heads toward larger changes with in the core. This will not effect the land but in the sea and under there will be noticeable changes. Actual Event – Magnitude 5.7 – SOUTH OF THE FIJI ISLANDS 2010 May 15 15:18:12 UTC...Magnitude 4.6 – FIJI REGION 2010 May 17 14:17:12 UTC... Magnitude 4.7 – FIJI REGION 2010 May 12 21:59:00 UTC (quite far but within the pacific) Numerous regions of China were hit 2 weeks later.

May 15, Item #2: There will also be on this day and on and around this day much rain coming from the sky in the N. American – NE area. There will be lots of water and flooding and to prepare for the earth to get very wet and saturated

Actual Event: Nashville, TN flood began May 2nd

Actual Event: From Accu Weather.com: May 14, 2010; 2:14 PM ET Severe thunderstorms, flooding threaten Texas to New York. An extensive frontal system stretching from the Northeast to the southern Plains will be the culprit behind severe thunderstorms and flash flooding through tonight. In the East, areas from Tennessee and Kentucky into the Virginias, Pennsylvania and southeastern New York will be at risk for severe thunderstorms through this evening. The biggest threats will be large hail and damaging winds, though a tornado can not be ruled out in the strongest of thunderstorms. Blinding downpours will also be a hazard to travelers throughout the region with flash flooding even impacting some areas. Cities such as Nashville, Tenn., Charleston, W.Va., Washington, D.C., Philadelphia and New York City are included in the risk area. People in the path of these thunderstorms should be prepared to seek shelter if a severe thunderstorm or tornado warning is issued. These thunderstorms could take down trees, tree limbs and power lines and even cause damage to buildings. Some of the hail could be large enough to damage vehicles and smash windows. While severe weather is usually unwelcome by most people, the nasty thunderstorms will be especially unwanted in Nashville. Residents there are still cleaning up after the devastating flooding that unfolded there at the beginning of the month, and any more severe weather will just cause further setbacks. Severe thunderstorms were already heading toward Nashville early this afternoon.

Predicted for May 17, 2010 - Expect the Oregon area to be effected by a massive and very unexpected earth tremor that will create havoc and death amongst those who will be unprepared. It is important to get shelter and move from the area for this will hit an area that is not often affected by tremors. It will be sad for those in an around the area and for those that support the US because this will be a shock that was not expected. There is little you can do about these devastations that come but you can pray and send unconditional love to the earth and to those who will be in the area and directly effected either by trauma, passing or shock. They will need messages of love and support for themselves and for loved ones.

Actual Event: Magnitude 2.8 OREGON 2010 May 16 02:15:17 UTC 20 km (15 miles) ENE of Pendleton, Oregon

Predicted for May 19, 2010 – There will be sadness that beholds the land of the free in the middle of the wheat and oil areas of the Midwest. Perhaps in the area of Oklahoma. Expect the destruction of a government/federal building that will collapse from the anger of the unhappy and unsettled spirit. The reaction to the action will create and fear and upset the hearts of those who live in the area restoring the memory in their hearts of past events that have occurred in the area. It is with hearts desire to wish those well who will be effected for it is not the death of the few it is the fear that sits with in the hearts that will hurt the most and spread throughout the country to create anxiety amongst the people of the United States.

Actual Event: Police killers identified as activists on mission to spread anti-government message By Zack McMillin, Marc Perrusquia Originally published 10:38 a.m., May 21, 2010

In the final moments of their lives, West Memphis Police Department veterans Brandon Paudert and Bill Evans encountered Thursday an old white Plymouth Voyager minivan carrying 16-year-old Joe Kane and his 45-year-old father, Jerry R. Kane – a man who unbeknownst to them harbored extreme anti-government views. He also had a record of previous trouble with police and a philosophy, which he credited to the Bible, of applying overwhelming violence to “conquer” foes.

Increasingly surreal revelations Friday about the Kanes gradually led to a late-evening confirmation by Arkansas State Police that Jerry Kane of Chester, Ohio, and Joe, of unknown residence, were indeed the dead suspects they believe killed Evans and Paudert – the son of the town’s chief of police. The Kanes later wounded Crittenden County Sheriff Dick Busby and Deputy Chief W.A. Wren in the conclusive shootout at Walmart in which father and son were killed.

Jerry Kane traveled the country with his son giving seminars on what he called "mortgage fraud" and offering advice on foreclosure strategies. A website promoting those seminars provided a trove of information – audio files and YouTube videos and links to various documents – detailing his world views. One particularly chilling YouTube clip involves Kane fielding a question about a "rogue" Internal Revenue Service agent: "Violence doesn't solve anything, OK. It's not violence that we're after. The Bible even tells us that if you're going to go and make war against somebody, you have to kill their sheep and their goats and their chickens and their babies and their wives. OK?"

In the YouTube video he said, "You have to kill them all. So what we're after here is not fighting, it's conquering. I don't want to have to kill anybody, but if they keep messing with me, that's what it's going to have to come out. That's what it's going to come down to, is I'm going to have to kill. And if I have to kill one, then I'm not going to be able to stop, I just know it."

In that video, he and Joe joke about using a bat to "take care of" a problem with an IRS agent. In an Internet broadcast dated May 6, Jerry Kane talks about New Mexico police arresting him in April at a "Nazi checkpoint where they were demanding papers or jail." . Predicted for May 22, 2010 - somewhere in the Eastern Pacific there will be turbulence and upset waters that will effect the area surrounding the area known as the Philippines. There will not be devastation but there will be a warning to those that live there but this will come to pass because there will be little effect from the waters. This is in preparation for what can come in the future but has not yet come to pass. All will be well in this land for now however it is up to this work to give you the information and channel it to others so they will know and believe.

Actual Event: Earthquake Magnitude 5.9 LUZON, PHILIPPINES
Saturday, May 22, 2010 at 10:22:54 UTC

Earthquake measuring 5.9Mw strikes northern Luzon 425 km north of Manila
The quake was centered near 18.454°N, 120.856°E and occurred on Monday, March 22, 2010 at 19:58:14 UTC , and a depth of 30km. NO tsunami warning was issued and as of posting there were no reports of casualties or damage. The epicenter was located about 130km north of the dacitic Ambalatungan Group of volcanoes and 130km west (282 degrees) of the historic Cagua volcano.

Predicted for May 26, 2010 - This is very sad, indeed for the love for this area is embraced in the hearts of many. This will greatly effect the waters in the area and what you as humans call the Great Barrier Islands. There will be a natural yet very unnatural formation in the water that will weaken the lives of the animals and creatures that live in the waters. The fish, turtles, shark and all sources of life that live with in this area in the water will sadly be affected by this diseased area and many animals will perish. There is not much to be done about the water but the earth will reconcile and slowly reverse the effects of this disruptive condition. This is part of a cycle between humans and the earth and without regret there is nothing that I can do about any of these things for this is the course of action that the energy points to. Just as mentioned earlier – no action and negative actions create negativity. And this is a result of a void of no action because prayer has not been put in motion therefore all directed energies are directed into the space of natural movement. And just as naturally, movement will destroy the water so will it restore it to a natural balance in the future. Therefore, just because I can foresee these problems of the earth does not mean I can change them or stop them because human consciousness questions me, gets angry with me for what “I” have caused. It is not what I have caused it is what “man” has caused.

It is time for human consciousness to take responsibility to all the actions that are created for some are: the cycles and expected to happen and many are caused by the consciousness on the planet. It is the consciousness of human mind, power and spirit that can focus and redirect these changes that are going to happen into a positive light. This is your moment to shine and to share the information with others so everyone who wants to participate can be a part of the change.

Actual Event: The oil spill is now affecting the great Barrier Islands of Mississippi, Alabama and the Gulf Coast..

May 29 – Beware for through the SE areas of Russia and through the mountainous ranges and foothills there will be an earthly disaster that will affect the lives of many. For, it is through the mountains that turbulence will come and through this it will affect those in and around the areas. This area is not used to these earthly changes in the recent years however over many centuries ago it was very active. This earth is this region is volatile, sad and angry and it will let its voice be heard. This area has been cruel to the land and its resources and it is speaking its mind to all who live there.

Regarding June 6 conversation and getting the prayers out asap... “It is important to begin the prayers around the time the equator shift is happening. This will be a time of great energy and a vortex will be on the planet – spiraling upwards to the heavens and downward simultaneously into the planet. This will be a time of great transformations. This is a most perfect time to begin the prayers for those who know of you and believe in these writings. Put your information out there – people are waiting to hear of this news and these prayers Begin in the best way you can because only good things will come to you and those involved.”

Updated – June 7, 2010 (June 1 – 9 did not occur so I questioned Mother Earth regarding the event and this is her comment)...

Yes Sherinata – You are coming to question what it is that you doubt about the predictions for June 1 -9. You are not to worry – everything is in perfect alignment as always. The shift WILL happen – it is just off from the dates that we gave to you that are regarded in your dimension. It will happen very soon – it will happen on 8 – 13. Yes – it is off a bit but the June 26 is still on and will be happening – do not worry – let go and let your light shine for all to see. Trust in the process. If by chance it is off geographically – which we do not believe then it will be off slightly but not by very much. This is something that you must trust and know for I do not understand why you still question when all has been proven to you.

This is true that what we say is different then what happens because we pick up the frequency of WHY things happen and through this we understand what the Earth should do and how it could react to what actually happens. Many times it is 100% but sometimes it is off to what you inteprete. Because your understanding is vastly different then what ours is. Trust and Let Go and Let God and your Universe to guide you. You must understand that all information you have written is correct and solid. The dates we give to you are important for activations and movement for the Earth and its inhabitants. Trust in the information, know that what you are doing is for the good of all humanity and know that you will be honored and taken care of for your journey. Believe in the ways of the Divine – allow yourself to grow and stay humble to the passerby's that do not understand. Stay on the narrow pathway that leads to enlightenment for the narrow pathways allows less diversions and obstructions – it is clear and easy to follow for you are able to put one foot in front of the other rather than being wide and unbalanced.

We give you great blessings and guidance and know that we are lighting your path as you walk through the dark forest. Remember the animals and fairies light your way just as the “friends of the heart connect” are there for you too. All will be well my dear child and be proud of what you are doing for you will be implemental in changing the world.

June 1 & 2- this is a very important date, one that can not be prayed for and must happen because of the earths rotation and core placement. It is that of which you call the Equator – the middle of your earth that divides the earth in ½ between the north and south hemispheres. This is the time when you will experience a shift in your equator. It will be a subtle shift but one that will create a domino effect in specific areas for the next 1 – 9 days. There will be much turmoil in the area of the South American continent and the land areas that are nearest and surround the equator. When you look at the globe and you follow it and view as if the middle of the equator is centered in the middle of NW Brazil.

At this point expect a horizontal shift to move slightly up or also considered laterally Northward by approx. 4.3 degrees. On the W. side of the middle of the equator expect a downward lateral shift by approx 3.3 degrees. This shift will directly affect the land surrounding the equator in S. America. Expect much turbulence and changes but it will not be devastating to the land when the actual shift happens it will however create much turmoil and sadness through the hearts of who lives there as they will experience some fire, some flooding and shifts with in and on top of the earth. It is what happens after the shift on the 1 & 2 day that will cause much sadness. Many shifts will occur on these first two days of June and shortly after and will be felt around this continent of South America and felt on others that are located near the equator but on other sides of the earth..

June 1 – 9 - What should be expected on other continents throughout the world? Let me begin by saying everyone will be minutely affected at some level whether it is now or later. From this change in the earth and equator moving there will be a trickle effect and it will snowball to many different levels over a period of time. For right now this is what is expected:

For the US – the N. American Continent - the shift of the equator will bring turbulence into the water and the atmosphere. Expect the regions that are located near the oceans from NE down through the peninsula of Florida and around to the land that surrounds the Gulf of Mexico and down through the islands to Panama. This will create a great stir in the waters not at this specific time but down the road into the near future for this shift will produce a very active hurricane season as it will effect the waters and around the entire earth and the atmosphere.

Africa - The continent that is known as Africa will also experience turbulence for the areas and locations that sit near the equator. For when the equator moves this land and the areas surrounding it will feel the torque of the earth and the energy and turbulence that it will create. The physical changes will take place on the earth and on top of the earth. This will result in much water and flooding. There will be a great river that will be affected and this will swallow up land that it surrounds. Those that live near the water inland will be greatly affected by this newly formed area. The result of the changes on this continent will bring forth many storms during the upcoming season and these storms will be strong and hurtful to the islands that lie in its path of destruction.

Indonesia and the South Seas – expect great turbulence in the water but with little outcome. This will have little effect on the land that surrounds the waters or to what you must call beaches. These islands will be a safe harbor for now until the future saddens their existence. This will come much later. They must enjoy what they have now for the energy that surrounds the islands will torment them and hurt them in the coming years.

Atlantic Ocean - tremors in the Atlantic ocean near the equator between South America and Africa. This will not be a large or noticeable shift in the waters however this will be the cause of the loss of land and will create hysteria in North section of the South American continent.

South America – North tip South America. This is very specific time to heed warning to what will happen on this day for the earth's shift on the ocean floor will directly affect the coast of South America and with this there will be a loss of land that will be effected by massive flooding of the oceans. There will be a structural change in the land and this will be the first drastic change that will be seen among the coming changes of the earth. This will be a time when people will begin to listen with their hearts and not with their minds. They will be praying for hope and "for God to save them and have sacrifice for those who live there" I must say again – this is not God's will. He is not in control of these disasters and is not lashing out on his children for this is evolution. This is the time for shifts to happen and it is expected – but as I mentioned before it is your human consciousness that can directly effect the outcome of these disasters and help to "minimize" them and in very few cases deter them, if at all possible for these shifts are on such a grand scale that it would take the entire population of the earth's inhabitants to pray at the same time and sadly this will never, ever happen. At least not yet – for when down the road and into the near future humanity will begin to realize that this document and what we say is REAL and that this is not a convoluted made up religion and it will be time for all of humanity and what is left of it to join in together as if they are holding hands around the world but it will be holding hearts for it would be physically impossible to hold and connect hands around the world. But it is possible to hold your physical energy of the heart that is manifested through faith and prayer for God and the me, the Mother and for all of humanity as well as the skies and the inner earth to carry that energy from one person to the other through your intentions of love and encircle that energy around the entire Planet Earth.

June 10 - North America – US NE California and - the area around NW Nevada – expect much turbulence and erratic and abnormal weather conditions here. Very unusual for this time of year. Nothing significant will become of this but it is worth documenting the effect.
